SEMINAR -02

REPORT:

On the 15th of November 2019, a seminar on the topic "Ashoka Dharma" was organized in the Seminar Hall of our department. The seminar aimed to explore the teachings and impact of Emperor Ashoka's principles of Dharma. The session was led by Ashis Thakur, with paper presentations by Bharati Lugun and Suneli Topno, providing insights into various aspects of Ashoka's Dharma.

Key Points Discussed:

1. Historical Background:

- Ashis Thakur commenced the seminar by providing a historical context of Emperor Ashoka, highlighting his reign, conversion to Buddhism, and the subsequent propagation of Dharma throughout his empire.

2. Principles of Dharma:

- Thakur elaborated on the core principles of Ashoka's Dharma, emphasizing the values of non-violence, compassion, tolerance, and moral integrity that formed the foundation of his governance.

3. Impact on Society:

- The paper presentations by Bharati Lugun and Suneli Topno delved into the societal impact of Ashoka's Dharma, discussing its influence on governance, social welfare, and religious harmony during his reign.

4. Contemporary Relevance:

- The seminar also touched upon the contemporary relevance of Ashoka's teachings in promoting peace, harmony, and ethical governance in the modern world.

Vote of Thanks: Surekha Lakra, Head of the Department, extended her sincere gratitude to Ashis Thakur for his insightful presentation on Ashoka Dharma. She also commended Bharati Lugun and Suneli Topno for their valuable contributions through their paper presentations. Lakra expressed her appreciation for the engaging discussions that ensued during the seminar, emphasizing the importance of exploring historical narratives for contemporary learnings.

REPORT:

A seminar on "The Great Revolt of 1857" was conducted on 11.01.2020 in the Seminar Hall. The session aimed to explore the causes, events, and consequences of one of the most significant uprisings in Indian history. Alok Ranjan Mahakul served as the resource person, providing insights into the revolt, while students Suchita Kishan and Sonia Barla presented papers offering their perspectives on the topic

Key Points Discussed:

Historical Context:

Alok Ranjan Mahakul initiated the seminar by providing a historical backdrop of the revolt, highlighting the socio-political conditions prevailing in India during the 19th century under British rule.

Causes of the Revolt:

Mahakul elaborated on the various factors that led to the outbreak of the revolt, including economic exploitation, religious and cultural grievances, and the introduction of new military regulations.

Events of the Revolt:

The resource person outlined the key events of the revolt, including the mutiny of sepoys, the uprising of Indian rulers and soldiers, and the siege of Delhi, Kanpur, and Lucknow.

Impact and Consequences:

Mahakul discussed the impact of the revolt on British rule in India, the Indian society, and the subsequent changes in British policies towards governance and administration.

Student Paper Presentations:

Suchita Kishan and Sonia Barla presented papers examining different aspects of the revolt, including the role of Indian leaders, the participation of women, and the impact on the socio-cultural fabric of Indian society.

Vote of Thanks:

Surekha Lakra, Head of the Department, expressed her gratitude to Alok Ranjan Mahakul for his enlightening discourse on the Great Revolt of 1857. She also commended Suchita Kishan and Sonia Barla for their insightful paper presentations, which added depth to the understanding of the topic. Lakra thanked the audience for their active participation and engagement in the seminar, emphasizing the importance of such academic discussions in enriching historical knowledge.

REPORT:

On the 20th of February 2020, a departmental seminar was conducted on the topic "Sufi and Bhakti Movement." The seminar aimed to explore the spiritual and cultural significance of these two influential movements in Indian history. Priyanka Majhi delivered an insightful PowerPoint presentation, offering an in-depth analysis of Sufism and Bhakti, followed by a vote of thanks by Surekha Lakra, the Head of the Department.

Key Points Discussed:

1. Overview of Sufi and Bhakti Movements:

- Priyanka Majhi commenced the presentation by providing an overview of the Sufi and Bhakti movements, tracing their origins, development, and key characteristics.
- She highlighted the core principles of Sufism, such as the pursuit of divine love and spiritual union, and the concept of Bhakti, emphasizing devotion to a personal deity.

2. Philosophical and Spiritual Teachings:

- The presentation delved into the philosophical and spiritual teachings of Sufism and Bhakti, exploring concepts such as love, surrender, and the quest for spiritual enlightenment.
- Majhi elucidated on the importance of spiritual practices such as meditation, chanting, and music in both Sufi and Bhakti traditions.

3. Impact on Society:

- The seminar discussed the profound impact of Sufi and Bhakti movements on Indian society, promoting religious tolerance, cultural syncretism, and social cohesion.
- Priyanka Majhi highlighted examples of Sufi and Bhakti saints who played pivotal roles in spreading their respective teachings and fostering unity among diverse communities.

Vote of Thanks: Surekha Lakra, Head of the Department, extended her sincere gratitude to Priyanka Majhi for her insightful presentation on the Sufi and Bhakti movements. She commended Majhi for her thorough research and engaging delivery, which enriched the seminar experience for all attendees. Lakra also thanked the participants for their active involvement and contribution to the seminar, emphasizing the importance of such academic endeavours in promoting interdisciplinary understanding and cultural appreciation.

REPORT:

On the 17th of October 2020, a webinar was conducted on the topic "Social Upheaval in the 19th Century in India." The webinar aimed to explore the various social, cultural, and political changes that characterized 19th-century India. Premananda Kuanr served as the resource person, providing insights into the significant upheavals that shaped Indian society during this period. The webinar was conducted via the Zoom app, allowing participants to engage in a virtual learning environment.

Key Points Discussed:

1. Historical Context:

- Premananda Kuanr commenced the webinar by providing a historical backdrop of the 19th century in India, highlighting the impact of British colonialism, economic changes, and social reforms on Indian society.

2. Social Changes:

- The webinar delved into the social changes witnessed in 19th-century India, including the breakdown of traditional social structures, emergence of new social classes, and the rise of social reform movements advocating for equality and justice.

3. Cultural Renaissance:

- Kuanr discussed the cultural renaissance that swept across India during the 19th century, with a renewed interest in Indian languages, literature, art, and philosophy. He highlighted the contributions of reformers and intellectuals in reviving indigenous cultural traditions.

4. Political Awakening:

- The webinar also addressed the political awakening among Indians in the 19th century, marked by the rise of nationalist sentiments, the formation of political organizations, and the demand for self-governance and independence from British rule.

Vote of Thanks: Surekha, Head of the Department, extended her heartfelt gratitude to Premananda Kuanr for his enlightening webinar on the social upheaval in 19th-century India. She commended Kuanr for his depth of knowledge and engaging presentation style, which made the webinar both informative and thought-provoking. Surekha also expressed her appreciation to all the participants for their active involvement and insightful contributions to the discussion, underscoring the importance of such webinars in fostering academic discourse and promoting historical understanding.

On August 17, 2021, a seminar was conducted on the intriguing topic of the position of women in medieval Odisha. The resource person for the seminar was Sumit Tirkey, who brought forth insightful perspectives on the historical context and societal norms prevalent during that era.

Presentation Highlights:

Ana Manjula Barla and Turlen Hembrom, through their meticulous paper presentation, shed light on various facets of women's lives during the medieval period in Odisha. They delved into the socio-cultural, economic, and political dimensions, providing a comprehensive understanding of the challenges and opportunities women encountered.

Key Insights:

The seminar provided a platform to explore the nuanced roles women played in medieval Odisha. It highlighted their contributions to art, literature, and governance, often overlooked in mainstream historical narratives. Moreover, it addressed the complexities of gender dynamics, revealing the interplay between patriarchy and women's agency.

Vote of Thanks:

The seminar concluded with a heartfelt vote of thanks delivered by HOD Surekha Lakra, expressing gratitude to Sumit Tirkey for his enlightening discourse and Ana Manjula Barla and Turlen Hembrom for their scholarly contributions. Their efforts in unravelling the historical fabric of women's position in medieval Odisha enriched the academic discourse and paved the way for further research and introspection.

Report:

A departmental seminar on the topic "Maratha Administration under Shivaji" was held on March 31, 2022, providing a platform to delve into the intricacies of governance during the reign of the legendary Maratha king, Shivaji Maharaj.

Paper Presentation:

The seminar featured a compelling paper presentation by Asima Minz, who offered insightful perspectives on the administrative structure and policies implemented by Shivaji Maharaj. Through meticulous research and analysis, Asima Minz explored various aspects of Maratha governance, including revenue administration, military organization, and diplomatic strategies.

Key Insights:

Asima Minz's presentation shed light on Shivaji's innovative approach to administration, characterized by decentralized governance, meritocracy, and efficient revenue collection systems. Participants gained valuable insights into Shivaji's visionary leadership, which laid the foundation for the Maratha Empire's expansion and resilience against external threats.

Interdisciplinary Perspectives:

The seminar fostered interdisciplinary dialogue, drawing upon historical, political, and administrative perspectives to illuminate Shivaji's enduring legacy. Participants engaged in lively discussions, exploring the socio-economic dynamics, cultural ethos, and strategic imperatives that shaped Maratha governance under Shivaji's rule.

Vote of Thanks:

The seminar concluded with a vote of thanks delivered by HOD Surekha Lakra, expressing gratitude to Asima Minz for her scholarly contribution and insightful presentation. HOD Surekha Lakra also acknowledged the active participation of faculty members and students, whose enthusiasm enriched the seminar and facilitated meaningful exchange of ideas.

DEPARTMENT OF HISTORY

SARBATI DEVI WOMEN'S COLLEGE RAJGANGPUR

REPORT:

On May 4th, 2023, a seminar was conducted to shed light on the socio-economic conditions of the Munda tribe in the Chota Nagpur region. The seminar aimed to analyze the challenges faced by the Munda tribe and explore potential solutions to improve their livelihoods. The seminar was led by the resource person, Prasanta Kumar Majhi, and concluded with a vote of thanks by the Head of Department (HOD), Sachim Minj.

Presentation by Prasanta Kumar Majhi: Prasanta Kumar Majhi commenced the seminar by providing an overview of the Munda tribe's history, culture, and traditional way of life. He emphasized the significance of understanding the socio-economic dynamics that influence the Munda community's well-being.

Key Points Discussed:

1. Historical Background: Prasanta Kumar Majhi delved into the historical context of the Munda tribe, tracing their origins and migration patterns in the Chota Nagpur region. He highlighted the rich cultural heritage and indigenous knowledge systems of the Munda people.
2. Socio-Economic Challenges: The resource person elaborated on the various socio-economic challenges confronting the Munda tribe, including poverty, land alienation, lack of access to education and healthcare, and marginalization. He underscored the impact of these challenges on the overall development and welfare of the community.
3. Livelihood Patterns: Prasanta Kumar Majhi elucidated the traditional livelihood patterns of the Munda tribe, which primarily revolve around agriculture, forest resources, and handicrafts. However, he noted the declining viability of these traditional occupations due to factors such as land degradation and changing market dynamics.
4. Government Initiatives and Interventions: The resource person highlighted the role of government schemes and interventions aimed at improving the socio-economic condition of tribal communities, including the Munda tribe. He discussed the effectiveness of these initiatives and identified areas requiring further attention and enhancement.

Conclusion: In conclusion, Prasanta Kumar Majhi emphasized the importance of holistic and sustainable development approaches tailored to the specific needs and aspirations of the Munda tribe. He called for concerted efforts from policymakers, civil society organizations, and the community itself to address the socio-economic disparities and empower the Munda people to chart their path towards prosperity and well-being.

Vote of Thanks by HOD Sachim Minj: Sachim Minj expressed gratitude to Prasanta Kumar Majhi for his insightful presentation and comprehensive analysis of the socio-economic condition of the Munda tribe. He commended the efforts of all participants in fostering greater awareness and understanding of the challenges faced by tribal communities. The HOD reiterated the department's commitment to promoting inclusivity and social justice, particularly for marginalized groups like the Munda tribe.

REPORT:

On May 6th, 2023, a departmental seminar was conducted to commemorate the life and legacy of Birsa Munda, a prominent tribal leader and freedom fighter. The seminar aimed to delve into Birsa Munda's contributions to the tribal rights movement and his enduring significance as an icon of resistance and empowerment. The paper was jointly presented by Anjela Xalxo and Sarika Dehury, followed by a vote of thanks by the Head of Department (HOD), Surekha Lakra.

Presentation by Anjela Xalxo and Sarika Dehury: Anjela Xalxo and Sarika Dehury commenced the seminar by providing a comprehensive overview of Birsa Munda's life, highlighting his early upbringing, activism, and legacy. They emphasized Birsa Munda's role as a visionary leader who spearheaded the struggle for tribal rights and socio-economic justice in colonial India.

Key Points Discussed:

1. Early Life and Background: The presenters provided insights into Birsa Munda's humble beginnings and upbringing in the tribal heartland of Jharkhand. They shed light on his formative years, upbringing, and the socio-political milieu that shaped his worldview.
2. Tribal Uprising and Resistance: Anjela Xalxo and Sarika Dehury elaborated on Birsa Munda's leadership in mobilizing the tribal communities against exploitative colonial policies and oppressive land tenure systems. They highlighted his pivotal role in organizing the Munda Rebellion of 1899-1900, also known as the Ulgulan or the Great Tumult.
3. Ideals and Vision: The presenters elucidated Birsa Munda's visionary ideals, including the assertion of tribal identity, cultural revival, and the pursuit of social justice. They underscored his advocacy for land rights, forest rights, and the preservation of tribal customs and traditions.
4. Legacy and Impact: Anjela Xalxo and Sarika Dehury reflected on Birsa Munda's enduring legacy and his impact on the tribal rights movement in India. They discussed his inspirational influence on subsequent generations of tribal leaders and activists, as well as his symbolic significance as a cultural icon.

Conclusion: In conclusion, the presenters reaffirmed Birsa Munda's status as a towering figure in the annals of Indian history, particularly in the context of tribal empowerment and emancipation. They emphasized the need to perpetuate Birsa Munda's ideals and values of self-determination, dignity, and social equity in contemporary struggles for tribal rights and justice.

Vote of Thanks by HOD Surekha Lakra: Surekha Lakra extended heartfelt thanks to Anjela Xalxo and Sarika Dehury for their insightful presentation on Birsa Munda and for commemorating his invaluable contributions to the tribal rights movement. She lauded their efforts in shedding light on Birsa Munda's life and legacy, which serves as a beacon of inspiration for all those advocating for the rights and welfare of tribal communities. The HOD expressed gratitude to all participants for their active engagement in the seminar and reiterated the department's commitment to promoting inclusive research and scholarship on tribal issues.

REPORT:

On May 9th, 2023, a seminar was conducted to explore the position of women in medieval India. The seminar aimed to analyze the socio-cultural, religious, and economic factors that shaped the status of women during this period. The seminar was led by the resource person, Jisnu Prasad Behera, and concluded with a vote of thanks by the Head of Department (HOD), Surekha Lakra.

Presentation by Jisnu Prasad Behera: Jisnu Prasad Behera commenced the seminar by providing a nuanced overview of the position of women in medieval India, spanning from approximately the 6th to the 18th century. He delved into various historical sources, including textual references, inscriptions, and archaeological findings, to elucidate the diverse experiences of women across different regions and social strata during this period.

Key Points Discussed:

1. Socio-Cultural Context: The resource person highlighted the complex socio-cultural dynamics that influenced the status of women in medieval India. He discussed prevalent norms, customs, and religious beliefs that both constrained and empowered women within the patriarchal framework of medieval society.
2. Legal and Religious Frameworks: Jisnu Prasad Behera explored the legal and religious perspectives on women's rights and duties in medieval India. He examined Dharmashastra texts, Islamic law, and royal decrees to assess the legal status of women, including issues related to marriage, property rights, and inheritance.
3. Economic Participation: The presenter underscored the significant but often overlooked role of women in the economic sphere during medieval times. He discussed women's engagement in various occupations, including agriculture, trade, craftsmanship, and household management, and highlighted instances of economic autonomy and entrepreneurship among women from diverse backgrounds.
4. Challenges and Agency: Jisnu Prasad Behera addressed the challenges faced by women in medieval India, including societal norms, economic dependence, and limited access to education and resources. However, he also emphasized women's agency and resilience in navigating and subverting patriarchal structures to assert their rights and aspirations.

Conclusion: In conclusion, the seminar provided valuable insights into the multifaceted position of women in medieval India, highlighting the interplay of socio-cultural, legal, and economic factors that shaped their lives. It underscored the need for a nuanced understanding of women's experiences and contributions in historical narratives, as well as the relevance of exploring these themes in contemporary discourses on gender equality and social justice.

Vote of Thanks by HOD Surekha Lakra: Surekha Lakra extended sincere thanks to Jisnu Prasad Behera for his enlightening presentation on the position of women in medieval India. She appreciated his comprehensive analysis and research, which shed light on a crucial yet often neglected aspect of Indian history. The HOD expressed gratitude to all participants for their active engagement in the seminar and reiterated the department's commitment to fostering inclusive research and scholarship on gender issues.

REPORT:

On May 13th, 2023, an interdisciplinary seminar was conducted on the topic "The Relevance of Gandhian Ideology in the 21st Century." The seminar, organized jointly by the Departments of Political Science and History, aimed to explore the enduring significance of Mahatma Gandhi's principles and philosophy in addressing contemporary socio-political challenges. Sarika Bilung served as the resource person for the seminar, providing valuable insights into the topic.

Key Points Discussed:

1. Overview of Gandhian Ideology: Sarika Bilung presented an overview of Gandhian ideology, highlighting its core principles such as non-violence, truth, self-reliance, and social justice. She emphasized Gandhi's belief in the transformative power of non-violence and its relevance in fostering peace and harmony in the contemporary world.
2. Non-violence and Conflict Resolution: The resource person discussed the applicability of Gandhian non-violence as a means for conflict resolution and peacebuilding in the 21st century. She cited examples of successful non-violent movements and initiatives inspired by Gandhi's principles, underscoring their effectiveness in fostering dialogue and reconciliation.
3. Sustainable Development and Environmentalism: Sarika Bilung explored Gandhi's emphasis on sustainable living, environmental conservation, and rural development. She discussed how Gandhian principles of simplicity, self-sufficiency, and respect for nature align with contemporary efforts to address environmental challenges and promote sustainable development.
4. Social Justice and Empowerment: The presenter analyzed Gandhi's advocacy for social justice, inclusivity, and empowerment, particularly in the context of addressing issues such as caste discrimination, gender inequality, and poverty. She highlighted Gandhi's commitment to uplifting marginalized communities and promoting human dignity for all.

Conclusion: In conclusion, the seminar provided a platform for interdisciplinary dialogue on the relevance of Gandhian ideology in the modern era. Sarika Bilung's insightful presentation underscored the enduring significance of Gandhi's principles of non-violence, sustainable development, social justice, and ethical governance. The seminar highlighted the importance of critically engaging with Gandhian thought to address contemporary challenges and build a more peaceful, just, and sustainable world in the 21st century.
